Common Insurance Terms

Coinsurance: Coinsurance is a percentage of what the insurance will pay to cover your health care cost after any deductibles or copays have been met. For example – the co-insurance on this plan is 90%, meaning you will be responsible for 10% of the bill.

Co-pay/ co-payment: Like a deductible, this is the amount of money you must pay out of pocket. For example – every time you see a doctor, you will be required to pay a $20 co-pay.

Deductible: The deductible is the amount you are responsible for. Sometimes the medical provider will ask for this payment up front. The deductible is paid once per calendar year. The deductible on this plan is $50.

Plan Participant: You, the insured.

Premium: This is the actual cost of the plan.

Provider Network: Also known as “in-network” provider. This is a group of medical providers that have agreed to charge less for the same service. Using an in-network provider can save you money. Please see the section on “how to use your insurance” for more information.

Usual, Reasonable and Customary: This is the average cost for a particular treatment in a certain geographic area. It is the amount that insurance companies use to determine the maximum they will pay.

How do I get a prescription?

Your plan includes prescription coverage. In most cases you will need to pay a co-pay at the time you pick up your medication. Please be prepared to pay when you pick up your prescription. You can always ask the pharmacy how much you will need to pay at the time you request a prescription be filled. MAKE SURE TO BRING YOUR ID CARD!

To find a pharmacy or estimate the cost of a drug please go to <https://www.whyuhc.com/us1> Most pharmacies such as Walgreens and CVS accept Optum.

How do I find a doctor or medical provider?

You may find in-network medical providers by going to:

<https://www.whyuhc.com/us1> and choose Options PPO or by calling 877.810.6870 for assistance.

- You are NOT required to use an in-network provider however, it may save you quite a bit of money if you do.
- You ARE required to use an in-network provider when seeking services for wellness.

Let's do some math demonstrating how coinsurance, co-payment and deductibles are applied:

You have submitted your first medical bill for $250 for a physician visit. This would be paid as follows:

$ 250	Initial Bill
$ 50	Deductible
$ 20	Copayment
180	Remaining Balance is paid at 90% = $162
$ 162	The insurance company will pay this amount
$ 88	Your responsibility

You have submitted your second bill for an in-patient hospital stay. You have already met your deductible. Charges would be paid as follows:

$ 5,000	Initial Bill
$0	You have already met your deductible already
$0	Copayment – there is no co-payment for a hospital in-patient stay.
$ 5,000	Remaining Balance is paid at 90% = $4,500
$ 4,500	The insurance company will pay this amount
$ 500	Your responsibility

Claim Procedures:

Please bring your ID card and a photo ID to obtain prescriptions or when you have any type of medical care. Providers will ask to see your insurance card. This will ensure claims are submitted properly. The medical providers will submit the charges for payment on your behalf.

After charges have been submitted, they will be processed by Robin Assist. (Robin Assist is your claims payer.) You will receive an explanation of benefits via email. Please review the explanation of benefits and contact Robin Assist if you have any questions about how your claim was processed. You can reach Robin Assist at 877-810-6870.
